

A detailed topographic map of the Priest Lake region, showing the lake and surrounding mountains. A red line indicates a route, and a black arrow points to the 'Sackett site' on the western shore of the lake. The map includes labels for 'Kanihsu National Forest', 'Priest Lake', 'North Baldy', 'Sundance Mtn', and various landmarks like 'Lookout tower' and 'Ranger station'. A red box with the text 'Sackett site' is overlaid on the map, with an arrow pointing to the specific location on the shoreline.

Topographic map

Satellite imagery

(b)(4) copyright

(b)(4) copyright

Photographs of the Sackett Site, Priest Lake, Idaho, May 3, 2007

View looking south of fill material being placed on site.

View looking south along western edge of property - filled area, excavated wetland area, existing wetland (left to right)

View looking north along western edge of property - filled area, excavated wetland area, existing wetland (right to left)

View looking north along eastern edge of property - filled area, excavated wetland area, existing wetland (left to right)

View looking north from southern edge of property